

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Dear Mr Colby

Thanks for yr letter. I am so sorry I had not heard before I wrote of yr husband's death. I don't think
I ever saw him, but Indian service makes strangers of one's own children almost, & much more so of cousins. But I remember meeting you in Devonshire I think in 1876 when I was staying at Halsdon with my uncle William Cary -

Yrs sincerely
G. W. Vickery

grand-daughter of Theophila, d. of John Palmer, Esq., and Mary Reynolds. Mrs. Colby d. 1 July 1876, s.p.

Dr. Colby has privately printed a memoir of his father, and a small collection of Poems and Translations by his grandfather and himself, a Sermon preached before the University, and the "Visitation of Devon in 1564." He contributed an article on "The Heraldry of Exeter" to the proceedings of the Archæological

GUILLE

* ARMS :—Az. a chev. betw. 3 estoiles Or; quartering De Jersey, Andros, De Saumarez, Stevens and Rolle. Royal descent through Stevens, Rolle, Bruce and Grey, to Edward I.

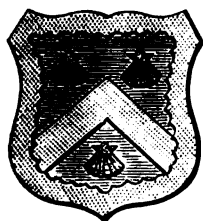

Institute in 1873, and one on "The History of Great Torrington" to the proceedings of the Devonshire Association in 1875; two articles to the "Journal of Sacred Literature" and a set of verses to "Sabrinæ Corolla," 2nd and 3rd editions. He has also edited for the Harleian Society the Visitations of Devonshire in 1620, and Somersetshire in 1623.

Dr. Colby married 2ndly, 1 Aug. 1877 Louisa Margaret Anne,* eldest d. of George de Carteret Guille, M.A., Rector of Little Torrington, Devon, and Seigneur de St. George in Guernsey, and Sophia his wife, d. and coh. of Thomas Stevens, Esq., of Cross (Little Torrington), Winscott, and Vielstone.

COLBY OF GREAT TORRINGTON.

ARMS:—Azure, a chevron between three escallops, and within a bordure engrailed, Or.

These Arms were borne by Mr. Thomas Colby of Great Torrington, as appears from a drawing made, probably, more than a hundred years ago, and from a seal on which "Colby" is impaled with "Coplestone." In Berry's "Encyclopædia of Heraldry" the same arms are assigned to "Colleby of Devon," except that he makes the chevron engrailed, which appears to be more correct. They are the arms of the Norfolk and Suffolk families of the name, and may be seen on the monument of Sir Thomas Colby, Bart., of Colby House* in Kensington Parish Church, near the west door.

ARMS (granted 1868):— Azure, two chevronells between two escallops in chief and as many Palmers' staves saltirewise in base, Or.

CREST:—On a wreath of the colours between two Palm branches a dexter arm embowed in armour, the hand in a gauntlet grasping a broken sword proper, suspended from the hand a Palmer's scrip Or.

MOTTO :—" Non omnis frangar."

COPLESTONE QUARTERINGS, Visitation of 1620.

1. Argent, a chevron engrailed Gules between 3 leopards' heads Azure (COPLESTONE).
2. Or, a bend Vairée (RALEIGH). Sackville
3. Ermine, a fesse between 3 cinquefoils Gules (GRAAS).
4. Gules, 2 bends wavy Argent (BREWER).

* Colby House was pulled down some years ago by Mr. Albert Grant for the site of his new mansion. A house at Ottery St. Mary is still known by the name of "Colby House,"

5. Or, 3 bugle horns Sable, stringed Gules, an arrow in pale through that in base, point downward, between 2 mullets in fesse of the second, barbed and feathered Argent (HAWLEY).
6. Azure, a chevron Or between 3 goats passant Argent (TRESILIAN).
7. Gules, a fret Argent, a canton of the last (HIWIS).
8. Sable, 6 mullets, 3, 2 and 1, a label of 3 points Argent (BONVILLE).
9. Argent, a whirlpool Azure (GORGES).
10. Gules, a bend Argent (FOLIOT).
11. Argent, on a chief Gules 2 mullets surmounted with a label, all of the field (ST. JOHN).
12. Gules, semée of fleurs de lys Or, 3 lions rampant within a bordure engrailed of the last (WIBBERY).
13. Argent, 2 bars Gules, in chief 3 torteaux (MULES).
14. Argent, a fret Gules (BLANCHMINSTER).
15. Argent, a chief Vairée (BLANCHMINSTER?).
16. Sable, semée of cross crosslets, a lion rampant Argent (HANTVILLE).
17. Argent, a chevron Sable between 3 round buckles, points upwards, Gules (FITZWATER).
18. Vairée, a chief chequy Or and Gules within a bordure Sable bezantée (FLEMING).
19. Argent, a trivet Sable (BARKELEY).

NOTE.—As what I said in the Preface to “Colby of Great Torrington” about my claims to the Arms and Quarterings of “Coplestone” has occasioned many enquiries, I may as well try to explain the state of the case more fully. My father always claimed to quarter the arms, and was very anxious that his seal should be preserved on that account. When, however, I proved the Pedigree at Herald’s College, the Herald refused to allow my claim on the ground that, as my great grandfather married twice, there might have been a son by the second marriage. Now, as Mr. Anthony Coplestone’s will could not be discovered at Doctors’ Commons, or at Exeter, after repeated search, how could it be proved that there was no son? On the other hand, I argue that “de non apparentibus et non existentibus eadem est ratio”; why should they suppose that there was? All the Coplestone entries in the Register were extracted and certified by the late Vicar of Ottery St. Mary, where Mr. Coplestone lived and died. I re-examined the Register three years ago, going carefully twice over every page from the date of the second marriage to that of Mr. Coplestone’s death, and have found no son. The Misses Hole of Great Torrington, granddaughters of Mr. John Coplestone, stated that they never heard of any son. Lastly there is extant in the possession of the Rev. Preb. Dayman, a pedigree of Coplestone of Woodland, compiled by his great uncle, the Rev. John Phillipps of Membury, North Devon, which says there were three daughters* by the second marriage, but says nothing of any son. So, on the whole, I venture to claim my inheritance—now, alas! a purely heraldic one!

* Only two daughters by the second marriage appear in the Register: Elizabeth, bap. 2 April 1766, and Ann, bap. 28 Dec. 1772, bur. 16 Sep. 1792. Mr. Phillipps says that one daughter married her cousin Henry Coplestone. No such cousin Henry, however, nor any such marriage is found in the Registers of Ottery St. Mary. There are descendants living in the female line of the half brother, Richard Coplestone of Knightstone, Esq., but I do not know whether there are any of Henry or Edmund Coplestone.

COPLESTONE OF WOODLAND IN LITTLE TORRINGTON AND KNIGHTSTONE IN OTTERY ST. MARY.

A carved oak shield with the arms of the first Richard Coplestone of Woodland is in the possession of Miss Moore-Stevens of Winscott. The shield gives the following quarterings: 1, Coplestone; 2, Graas; 3, Hawley; 4, Tresilian; 5, Hiwis; 6, Bonville; 7, Gorges; 8. St. John; 9, Wibbery; 10, Fitzwalter; 11, ~~Fleming~~; 12, Berkeley; and impales the arms of "Floyer," quartered with "Crooke." The crest is a demi-griffin segreant without wings.*

In the old house at Woodland may still be seen the arms carved in stone over the doorway, and in one of the upper rooms the arms of Joseph Coplestone impaled with those of Mary Duck, of which a woodcut is given above, from a drawing made by Mr. E. R. Pearce.

* The crest given in the MS. in the Chapter Library, Exeter, and in some of the Harleian MSS., is a peculiar figure which seems to represent the whirlpool of Gorges. Motto: "Immoto visu invadit hostem."

- P. 25, 3rd note. The brother who lived at Chippenham was not an elder, but a younger, brother, and his name was William. It appears from his will, proved 2 Dec., 1765, that he had property in Chippenham, North Newton, Shaw near Melksham, and Brinkworth, Wilts; also in Berkshire; and a house in Oxford; all which he left to John Colborne, of Hardenhuish, Esq., and Thomas Johnson of Woolley, near Bradford, Wilts, Esq. (brother of the Bishop of Worcester), in trust for his daughter Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Benjamin Rogers (Rev. B. Rogers, of Rainscombe), and, after her death, to be distributed between her children—William Johnson Rogers, James Rogers, and Elizabeth Rogers.

By the kindness of Mr. Price, I am able to add the following memoranda from an old family Bible. On the cover, "Mary Johnson, born 11th of Feb., 1716." On the fly-leaf, "Jane Johnson, given by her mother, 1756. Given by the above Jane to her niece, Mrs. Furse. The above Jane was sister to Mary to whom this book belonged. They both died unmarried. Jane at the age of 85. They were daughters of the Rev. Samuel Johnson, Vicar of Great and Little Torrington, whose wife was Jane Skinner of Rhude, whose mother was a Dennis (and the descendants of her family are still living at Tavistock). Mrs. Johnson had eleven children, only four outlived her—Jane; Richard, who married a daughter of the Rev. — Sess, of Fairmile, near Sidmouth, by whom he had a large family. He was a surgeon, and lived at Walthamstow in Essex. His eldest son married an Irish lady, and the eldest daughter a Mr. Watson. Neither have any family. William, who married Miss E. Reynolds; and Daniel, who married Miss Bridget Cory, the mother of C. W. Johnson, who married Theresa Johnson Furse. The Rev. Samuel Johnson was born in Reading in Berkshire. His eldest brother possessed the property which belonged to the family in Chippenham. He left one daughter named Elizabeth who married a Mr. Rogers, of Chippenham, Berks (sic). He had another brother who married a sister of old Mr. Hiern's, but left no family.

"The Johnsons were some of them residents, and perhaps natives, at Reading, and were buried in one of the churches, in which some years ago there was a brass chandelier given by one of the family."

P. 27, l. 11. W. Johnson died at Exeter, 31 July, 1884.

P. 27, l. 13. The Rev. W. Yonge was first Archdeacon and afterwards Chancellor.

The Yonges quarter Helstone, Kaynton, Randolphe, Bannerton, and Ipstones.

EARLIER JOHNSON PEDIGREE.

Of the Five Families whose Pedigrees have been given, the Coplestones only would, I suppose, be properly called a "Devonshire Family." They have all, however, been for some considerable time connected with Devonshire, and I did not intend to attempt to trace them further. Within the last few months Mr. F. R. Y. Radcliffe has been good enough to search the registers at St. Lawrence's Reading, and the wills at Somerset House, and has obtained further information from the Town Clerk of Reading, with reference to the Johnsons. There has also appeared an article already referred to, on the Johnsons of Bowden by Mr. W. Money. After all we have been disappointed in our endeavour to confirm the family tradition of a connection between the Johnsons of Reading and the Johnsons of Bowden. We cannot, indeed, carry back the Pedigree with certainty beyond Richard Johnson of Reading, the grandfather of the Vicar of Great Torrington. Some day the enquiry may be renewed with more success. William Johnston (or Johnson) of Bowden Park (near Chippenham) had a son Richard born in 1629, who, as far as dates go, might be our Richard, but he married a Sarah Oeils, and we know that the widow of our Richard was called Susannah. It seems most probable that our Richard was Richard, son of Samuel Johnson of Reading, b. 1625, but he may have been Richard, son of Gilbert Johnson, Rector of Burgfield, living, and quite young, in 1631. It is most probable that the different families of Johnson of Reading were all connected with each other, and there are some circumstances which support the family tradition of a connection with the Bowden line. In the first place, Mr. William Johnson, a brother of the Vicar of Great Torrington, had property in Chippenham and in several other places in North Wilts. Then, again, one of his executors was Thomas Johnson, of Woolley near Bradford-on-Avon, Esq. This gentleman was a brother of the Bishop of Worcester, and belonged to the Bowden family. Thirdly, the Rev. Samuel Johnson certainly used the goat's head crest ascribed to Johnson of Bowden by Burke. I suppose this crest was adopted by George Johnson, the Welsh Judge, with reference to his Welsh dignity, and was in use, probably, before he had proved his descent from the Johnstons of Annandale, NB., and had had a regular grant of arms with the Johnston crest in 1663.<sup>1</sup> However this may be, it seems to me to go a long way towards proving a connection between the two lines. If the Reading people wanted to assume, without right, the crest of the Bowden family, I do not quite see how they could have known of the goats' head crest, and one would have expected them to have taken the prettier, better known, and more noble, Johnston crest. As a matter of fact, this latter crest has actually been borne by some of their descendants in later years. On the other hand there appear to have been Johnsons at Reading long before John Johnston came to England in 1603, if, indeed, he was the real founder of the Bowden family.

F.T.C.

<sup>1</sup> In Mr. Money's monograph it is stated that John Johnston came to England in the retinue of K. James I in 1603. William Johnston or Johnson, his son, married Elizabeth d. of Henry Hyde, of Pyrton, co. Wilts, Esq. and sister of Edward Earl of Clarendon. Through this marriage his descendants became connected with two Queens, Anne and Mary. In conjunction with his son George, he bought Bowden Park in Lacock near Chippenham. He was rated in the Subsidy Roll of 1640 £3 for lands and 24s. for goods. He died in 1663. George Johnson, his eldest son, built Bowden House. He was a J.P. for Wilts 1667, M.P. for Devizes 1681, a Bencher of the Middle Temple, Solicitor to the Treasury, a Judge in the Counties of Montgomery, Flint, and Denbigh, and had a patent of the reversion of the Mastership of the Rolls, though he did not live to succeed to it. He twice entertained Catherine of Braganza, Queen of Charles II, on her way to and from Bath. He died in 1683. His wife was Mary d. of James Oeils, a London merchant, of Flemish origin, by whom he had seventeen children. George, afterwards of Notton in Lacock, succeeded him at Bowden, but, in consequence of a Chancery suit, that was subsequently sold. Another son William, was settled at Barnwood Court, co. Gloucester, and married Beata d. of William Selwyn Esq.

PEDIGREES OF FIVE DEVONSHIRE FAMILIES. 1884.

SECOND APPENDIX, 1894. F. T. COLBY.

---

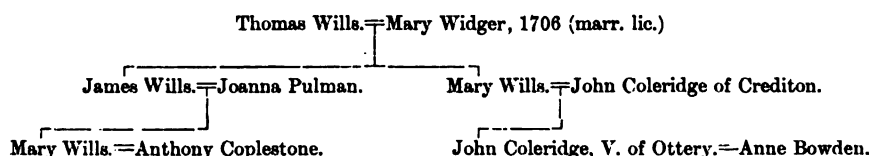

SINCE the Volume, entitled "Pedigrees of Five Devonshire Families" was issued in 1884, many events, have, of course, occurred. Some of these were noticed in the Appendix of 1885, and many more in the separate revised edition of the Palmer Pedigree, 1892. It may be hoped that heads of families have recorded the rest in their copies of the Pedigrees. I do not undertake to chronicle all these inevitable changes, but, without repeating the Appendix, or what has already been printed, I propose to mention any errors which have been discovered since 1885, and to add some further observations. As it is a frequent complaint that Pedigrees are dull, I will vary matters by venturing to introduce some personal details, and also some verses of my own (which are not to be taken au pied de lettre). It is no doubt true enough that a dry narrative of facts is not attractive reading. It may conceal many a pathetic story, many a romantic love, many a hope unfulfilled, or, shall we say, many a happy and useful life passed in the fulgentis semita vitæ? but, as in a manuscript written between the lines in sympathetic ink, these things are not apparent to the casual observer.

1. COLBY PEDIGREE.

Page 1. There appears to be a mistake at first starting as to the date of birth of the first Thomas Colby. It is not very easy to decide whether the figures which give his age in the inscription over the vault are intended for 57 or 67; probably the former. If so, he was born in 1716. There are two slabs with Colby inscriptions in Great Torrington Church, but, as they are on the floor and near the vestry door, they have been much trodden on, and half of one of them is quite undecipherable. I have reasons for thinking that this Thomas Colby was the same who built "Colby House" at Ottery St. Mary, though he appears to have been a stranger there as well as at Torrington. His first wife, Elizabeth

Stoneman, died 20 Feb., 1764, and his second wife Elizabeth Brock, died in 1787. The Stonemans were important people in the town at that time, and had property in Great and Little Torrington. The Brocks had property at Little Torrington.* The marriage of Hannah Brock Colby to the then Capt. Elrington took place at Plymouth in Jan. 1798. The Elrington Arms are given as they appear on a grant of the freedom of the City of Worcester to Gen. Elrington, now in the possession of his grandson, Alex. Duncan, Esq. In the Visitation of Essex, p. 49, the number of the storks is six. In the Duncan Arms read "azure" instead of "gules."

Page 2. My grandfather, Thomas Colby, was very fond of writing verses, and composed at least one tragedy, besides many vers de société, some of which I printed in 1872. His marriage with Miss Mary Coplestone was, I believe, opposed by her father. He was, however, present at the wedding, which was performed by the Rev. John Coleridge. I have a curious letter of my grandfather's addressed to his future wife and signed, "W. Hyett." The language is very affected and constrained, and the conclusion is in French. In it he speaks warmly of her poetical talents and urges her to cultivate them. Mr. Anthony Coplestone married Mary Wills, a first cousin of Mr. Coleridge's. The following statement will show the connection :—

The note at p. 10 should be corrected in accordance with this. The first note on p. 2 should also be corrected. Read "sixteenth" instead of "fourteenth." My uncle James Colby died from a fall from a horse under sad circumstances. My uncle Henry died in Jan., not Feb., 1809. Owing to these melancholy events my father became, early in life, the sole survivor of the family. It will be observed that his father also was an only surviving son. I am the sole survivor in my generation. My brother Edmund Reynolds Colby died at Fulham, 24 Aug. 1885, and his widow Isabella Susan Jane died 2 July 1892. Samuel Reynolds Colby married 13 Oct. 1891 Elizabeth Jane Morrell, and has issue a son b. 26 Nov. 1892 (Knox Reynolds Morrell).

* Richard Brock of Langtree, gent., bur. at Little Torrington, 12 Jan., 1653. Philip Brock, gent., 1692. Stonemans and Brocks are mentioned in deeds relating to the Stevens property.

Mons Idæus ubi, et gentis cunabula nostræ.

Not through such paths as once Francesca trod,
Nor by such wildering lore the spell was cast,
But o'er HIC JACETS, mournful relics of the past,
Our steps were guided by the laughing god.
We searched for names and dates enwrap in gloom
Of those who years ago had met their doom :
The lines were blurred and marred with many a stain,
Our task seemed endless and our labour vain :
Quaint figures, all heraldic, sprawled and mocked
Our poring eyes, and kept the secret locked—
When, lo ! a novel splendour filled the page,
The antique parchments lost the taint of age,
And we, tired searchers, tremblingly espied
Two names—our own—in love-knots safely tied !

2. COPLESTONE PEDIGREE.

Page 8. According to Col. Vivian's researches there is a mistake about the Kelly alliance. It seems that Alice Kelly was the first wife of the first Richard Coplestone of Woodland, not of the second. Also, the second Richard's wife was a daughter of Richard, not William, Bellew. The words from "sister" to "English" must therefore be struck out. This second Richard Coplestone succeeded his father, not his brother. The monument with curious verses on it to his memory is now hidden by the new organ.

Anthony Coplestone (page 10) was baptized at Little Torrington, 2 May, 1725. He was first married in 1751. The figures are wrong as to his children. Mary was the eldest, born in 1752. Anthony Coplestone married secondly in 1760 Betty, d. of Christopher and Jane Salter. She was baptized 2 Feb. 1738, and so could only have been sixteen years old at the time of her marriage.

3. REYNOLDS PEDIGREE.

Page 11. It is much to be regretted that the pedigree cannot be carried * A pedigree of Colby of Great Torrington was printed in the first vol. of the "Visitations of England and Wales," by J. J. Howard, LL.D., F.S.A., and F. A. Crisp, 1893; and in the special edition of the same work the Coplestone descent is added. Mr. James W. Colby of Brockton, U.S.A., who believes his family to have come from England in the 17th century, is preparing a History of the Colby Family, with illustrations. A biographical notice of my unworthy self appears in Boase's Register of Exeter College, published by the Oxford Historical Society, 1894, and in Foster's "Oxford Men and their Times," 1893.

a little further back. One would like to bring in Dr. John Reynolds (of Pinhoe, near Exeter), President of C.C.C. Oxon., one of the translators of the Bible, &c * As far as I could make out from such wills as were to be found at the Exeter Probate Court there were four families of the name of Reynolds in, or near, Exeter, and I could not "sort" them. I observed that in one of them mention was made of property at Plympton, afterwards so much connected with the great Sir Joshua.

I have printed separately a revised pedigree. The Rev. John Reynolds, Vicar of St. Thomas, who, as well as his brother Joshua, belonged to Exeter College, Oxford, was not master of the Grammar School. His son, John, the Canon, was, and was succeeded by his own son, William, a Fellow of Exeter College, Oxford, and afterwards Vicar of Veryan, Cornw. Canon Reynolds was a Fellow of King's College, Cambridge, and of Eton. He does not seem to have taken his Doctor's degree, though S.T.P. is on the title page of Pomponius Mala, edited by him, 2nd ed. 1814. He was B.D. of Oxford by diploma (1718). He married twice, and had children by both wives, but survived them all.

Mary, the second wife of the Vicar of St. Thomas, was a daughter of Henry Ainsworth, Esq., of Amsterdam, a man of great theological attainments, and a leading Nonconformist.

4. PALMER PEDIGREE.

Dean Palmer in his travels in France was witness of the execution of a criminal by the terrible process of breaking on the wheel. In a letter to her cousin William Johnson his sister mentions his narrow escape in 1798 ;—

Taplow Court, July 24, 1798.

We have to be thankful to God Almighty for the safety of my brother the Dean of Cashel and all his family, who providentially quitted Wexford (the seat of the rebels) just before the Rebellion began. They are now, thank God, safe and well at Torrington, or rather Beam (which my brother has purchased of Lord Rolle). His fortune ye may well suppose has suffered, and his house I take it for granted is destroyed. Not a single Protestant family in or near the town of Wexford have escaped. Men, women, and children indiscriminately butchered. Mrs. Palmer's mother and sister miraculously escaped into Wales with only their clothes upon their backs —&c. M. INCHQUIN.

The settlement on the marriage between Morough O'Bryan, Earl of Inchiquin, and Miss Mary Palmer (penes me) is dated 20 July, 1792. The trustees are

* It seems most probable that the Reynolds' of St. Thomas were connected with the Reynolds of Pinhoe.

the Right Hon. Edm. Burke, and John King, one of H.M. Under Secretaries of State. By a later deed of 29 May, 1799, the names of Edward Gwatkin and Joseph Hill, Esquires, are substituted. Lord Thomond died in consequence of a fall from his horse. It appears from a letter to Mrs. W. Johnson that the accident was not at first considered a fatal one :—

Taplow Court, July 17, 1804,

I am happy in having it in my power to give you the satisfaction (I am sure it will be) of knowing that my Lord is going on very well. At least as much so as one can possibly expect after such an accident, which, though not quite so bad as the papers represent it to be, is nevertheless a very serious one. By his fall he received a violent contusion on his side and broke one of his ribs, and has much hurt the poor arm which was dislocated some time ago. However I am assured by the surgeon that with time and patience he will be quite himself again—

&c. M. THOMOND.

The Gwatkin family (page 22) were originally of Fownhope, co. Hereford, where the founder of the family had a grant of land after the battle of Agincourt. Mr. R. L. Gwatkin was descended from a younger son who settled at Bristol. His father, Edward Gwatkin of Bristol, married Anne, d. and h. of Robert Lovell of Roscrow, co. Cornw., Esq. Mr. R. L. Gwatkin was a Fellow Commoner of St. John's College, Cambridge, and 13th Wrangler. He changed his residence several times. After leaving Bristol he lived at Killiow, a country seat near Truro. He resided for some time at Great Torrington. At another period we find him at Baylis (Stoke Poges), which was left to his wife by her sister Lady Thomond, and finally he settled at Plymouth.

It may be mentioned that both my grandfather, Rev. John Palmer, and the Rev. Septimus Palmer, were Fellow Commoners of Peterhouse, Cambridge. Dean Palmer belonged to Exeter College, Oxford.

There are two or three unfortunate misprints in the revised Palmer pedigree. Page 8, l. 17, R. P. Colomb was born in 1869.

Page 12, l. 16, 18, 19. The dates have slipped out of place. The date given for Charles P. Aylmer belongs to his elder brother Frederick Arthur, and that given for Charlotte Louisa Mary to her brother Charles Paget.

5. JOHNSON PEDIGREE.

Page 25. I think now that the seal of which an engraving is given must have belonged to the Harts, the device being a hart's head. So the words from "Mr. William Cory" to "the crest assigned" should be struck out; and in the first note the words "more correctly drawn." The paragraph should end thus:—The crest assigned to Johnson of Bowden, Wilts, in Burke's "General Armory" is a goat's head erased,* and the arms are, "Argent, a bend sable, and on a chief of the second three cushions of the field." (Granted 26 Nov., 1663).

Mrs. Hart was a Cory, a first cousin of Mr. Charles William Johnson,† and of Jane Johnson, Mrs. Palmer. The children of the former were her residuary legatees. There are slabs in the chancel and middle aisle of Torrington Church to the memory of the Johnsons. The name is spelt "Johnston" in the earlier entries. The Johnsons of Bowden, Wilts, with whom our Johnsons claimed connection, were supposed to be of Scotch origin, and to have spelt the name "Johnston" originally, but the spelling on the monuments may be merely a stonemason's blunder.‡

John Johnson died 19 July, 1719, aged six months; Joanna died 15 May, 1722, aged fourteen days.

These were children of the Rev. Samuel Johnson. He himself died 16 March, 1745, and Samuel, his son, died 8 Aug. 1746. Mrs. Johnson (Skinner) died 28 June, 1778, aet 82.

* This asterisk refers to the note in the book.

+ "Ionica," 2nd ed., p. 150.

‡ I discredit the early part of the pedigree of "Johnson of Bowden" as given by Mr. Walter Money, because the Johnsons were certainly seated there as early as 1623, when they were "disclaimed" by the Heralds at the Visitation. This seems irreconcilable with coming into England only in 1603, and in the suite of the King, and the alleged purchase of the property in 1662. The Johnsons of Reading at any rate were already important people there before 1603.
